

MY ACTION PLAN

As a result of what I learned from the workshop, I will:

- Recognize symptoms of stress.

- My symptoms of stress include:

- Practice self-care to feel better.

- Some self-care techniques that I can use are:

- Practice a deep breathing exercise _____ times a day.
- Exercise for 20-30 minutes _____ times a week.
- Practice positive self-talk words or phrases in difficult situations (“calm,” “confident,” “I can do this!”).
- Your idea: _____

- Know my community resources that can help.

- One community resource that I am likely to use myself or refer someone to is:

Name: _____

Contact Number: _____

Class: _____

Date: _____ Location: _____

Cultivating a productive mindset when it comes to dealing with stress can be done with the help of a personal action plan. Action plans can help us identify how we plan to deal with stress by listing out specific steps or tasks to help ourselves and those we care about. Consider some of the useful ideas listed on this page, or fill in the blanks to create your own ideas. Keep this action plan in a place where you will see it to remind you of your efforts.
